A Taste of History 2010

Friday, September 10, 2010
Fort Edmonton Park

- ★ Dramatically delicious food and drink
- ★ A hilarious production of “A Long Night” by Fort Edmonton’s Twenties Street Players
- ★ Compelling auction items

The Fort Edmonton Foundation invites you to participate in the re-creation of the Capitol Theatre in Fort Edmonton Park by supporting a Taste of History 2010.

Over the 55 years the Capitol Theatre stood at 10065 Jasper Avenue, it experienced many phases of cinematic evolution, from the 1920s silent era, through the 1930s talkies and the Golden Age of Hollywood, to the emergence of independent and underground cinema in the 1960s.

While its predecessor’s primary function was that of a cinema, the Capitol Theatre in Fort Edmonton Park will be a multi-use venue. During park hours, it will take visitors on a multi-media journey through time with some of early Edmonton’s most colourful characters. As a rental facility, the 250-seat interior will provide theatrical, musical, and dance groups with high-tech features that will optimize their performance options. The theatre will feature an elaborate lobby space with concession, a seating balcony, backstage dressing rooms, a full-size screen, a foremost audio system, and digital projection capability.

The Capitol Theatre in Fort Edmonton Park will provide endless entertainment possibilities and experiences, from early talkie cinema in a luxury setting, to thoroughly modern performances in a state of the art facility.
